MUST BACK LEAGUE

TAFT SAYS IT IS THAT, OR PREPARE FOR ANOTHER WAR

HIS ARGUMENTS FOR IT

With William Howard Taft, the only living ex-president of the United States, predicting a greater war if President Wilson's plan for a League of Nations to Enforce Peace is not carried out, and prominent statesmen, educators and jurists, declaring in favor of the League, the Mid-Continent Section of the National Congress for a League of Nations held in St. Louis Tuesday and Wednesday was unanimously in favor of the plan. The meeting was attended by many delegates from Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa and Kansas. J. L. Funk, formerly prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county, now living in El Reno, Okla., was a delegate from Oklahome to the meeting.

Mr. Taft in his speech said in part:

"The question now before the American people is not whether a formal treaty shall be ratified by the Senate. The question is whether the draft report of a proposed covenant and league of the 14 nations represented at Paris shall meet their approval. They should give the President to know that he will have their backing in consenting to the incorporation of such a covenant in the treaty. It is quite possible that in the present draft, there are ambiguous words that should be rendered clearer in their support. It is quite possible that reservation in respect to things we deem important, like the Monroe Doctrine, should be made more specific. Such changes in language to take away the finely drawn arguments of objectors who resort to strained construction in attacking the covenant can be easily made by the conference.

"There are certain vital points in the covenant, however, that must be retained if it is to have effectiveness and reality. One is the settlement of our differences with other nations, as other nations consent to the settlement of their differences with us and with others by arbitration, or by mediation and conciliation, and a report before we begin war. Another is that if the nation against whom we have a grievance and against whom an award or a report is made, complies with that award or report, we must be satisfied, and not begin war against the complying nation to achieve by force more than has been adjudged to us. Finally, when any nation has covenanted not to begin war pending a peaceable settlement, or the compliance with an award, breaks that covenant and begins the fight, we must unite with other nations to boycott that nation. We must isolate it from world relations, commercial, financial, personal and diplomatic, so as to compel it to stop war and comply with its covenant. We must do this, and can do it, in no other way than by act of Congress imposing an embargo.

"The result of this voluntary feature in the forming of an army of the league is likely to be that the nations members of the league in the neighborhood of the outlaw nation will raise the needed forces, while those most remote will confine their efforts to the boycott only. In other words, European countries would be likely to furnish on such recommendation the forces to be used in Europe, and the American countries those to be used in this country, those to be used in this hemisphere to suppress lawless war.

"The Executive Council of the league is to recommend a fair and general reduction of armament, and a specific limit for each nation, leaving only enough to defend itself and comply with the obligations of the league. These limits are to be fixed in view of and in consideration of the reduction in armament of other countries. It then becomes a matter of negotiation and agreement between us and the Executive Council, what retion of armament we will make. This can be agreed upon eigther by the treaty making branch or by Congress. When made, we must be willing to comply with the agreement until conditions change.

"If the United States does not do so the league and covenant will lose much of its power, prestige and general effectiveness. The refusal of the United States [illegible] a mere offensive and defensi[illegible]e of the countries of Great B[illegible]rance, Italy and Japan, and w[illegible]all soon return to the old system of hostile alliance and competitive armaments, followed inevitably in a decade or two decades by another war. We shall go through the same sad course of events which the history of this war records, in which we shall attempt to be a neutral and then be inevitably drawn in by our close relations to European countries. Then the energy and enterprise and heroism of our people will again be stirred, the best of our youth will be sent abroad to fight the battles not only of the world but of ourselves.

Speaking of the Monroe Doctrine and the effect a League of Nations would have on it, Judge Ames said:

"The Monroe Doctrine itself was the immediate outgrowth of European politics.

"It was made possible by a definite understanding with Great Britain.

"It did not represent a policy of isolation, but a policy of co-operation.

"Its fundamental purpose was to make the United States and those countries adjacent to it 'safe for democracy.'

"Every one of these principles is directly in the path President Wilson is now pursuing, and it cannot be an abandonment of our time-honored policy to accept for its support the great democracies of the world with whom we are now associated. We believe that the historic policy of the United States has always been to make safe the pathway of democracy and we now have a rare opportunity of securing the support of the civilized world in adopting this, not merely an American policy but as the policy of all civilized nations.

"We ought to become a party to a League of Nations as a pure matter of selfishness. Every portion of the globe today is adjacent to the United States. Constantinople and Tokio are closer to us today than Rio de Janeiro in Monroe's day."

WM. JOB GOOD ROAD WORKER

Wm. Job of Maryville, representative in the state legislature, is one of the foremost workers for good roads and is devoting a large part of his time while at Jefferson City in preparing and directing legislation along this line. Representative Job asked the Speaker of the House to be relieved of work on the Ways and Means committee to which he was named in order that he might devote more time to road legislation.

The amendments to the proposed 60 million state road bond issue presented by Pruitt of Jackson county were prepared by Mr. Job. The amendments provided that all counties in the state share equally in the division of the moneys. he original bill was also prepared with the assistance of Mr. Job, who has pointed out that the income from registration of automobile licensees will pay the interest and start a sinking fund, thus relieving the tax payers of being burdened.

Much other important road legislation for consideration has also been due to his iniative, two of the measures being order to the printer with privilege to have more than twice the number for distribution. All of the road measures in which he has been interested have been given favorable consideration and some of them will doubtless be enacted into laws.

Bills are to be introduced and engrossed at the first session and passed at the second. Thirty dollars for postage and mileage are provided for as at present.

VERDUN IS IN RUINS

CHAS. WILES WRITES OF TRIP TO BATTLE SCARRED CITY

Says That Place Is a Total Loss and That Germans Should Be Made to Pay For It.

The following interesting letter has just been received by Carl Wiles from his brother, Chas. Wiles, with the advanced section of the American Army of Occupation in Germany:

Dear Brother and All:

I will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and getting along alright. There isn't very much going on here but will try and tell you about the trip I took last Sunday.

Most of us fellows here in the office have been trying for some time to get up to the front. Last Sunday we got a truck and went up to Verdun. It is one hundred kilometers from here, or about sixty-five miles. We went by the way of Domremy, the birthplace of Joan of Arc, Vaucouleurs, Void, Commerey, Sampigny, St. Mihiel, to Verdun. Commercy is a pretty fair sized town and was about the first place we saw that was shot up any. Most of it was done by bombs. Lerouville was shelled some, but it is quite a distance from the St. Mihiel sector, therefore isn't shot up as bad as some of the other towns. When we reached Sampigny we ran into the trenches and they sure showed that some hot fighting had been going on there. The ground was heavily intrenched and covered all over with wire entanglements. The hills were pretty badly torn up by the shells. St. Mihiel has received a pretty heavy bombardment. The buildings are pretty well badly battered up. There were only a few stores open for business. There was one big church that I noticed, that had the spire shot off, part of the roof gone and several holes through the sides. We saw one little town between St. Mihiel and Verdun that had been shot to the ground. The roofs were off of about all the houses, just a few parts of the walls were left standing.

There were trenches and entanglements almost all the way from St. Mihiel to Verdun. They were built along the road and looked as if they were built during an advance. They were not very deep and looked as if some outfit had dug themselves in in a hurry.

Verdun is located on some very high hills. It is an old fortress and is a very strong point. There were thirty forts in and around the city. As we came into the city we passed through two sets of gates and two sets of great stone walls. In spite of these strong fortifications, it was shelled to the ground. I don't believe there is a building left that wasn't hit at least once. The place looks like a corn field after a heavy hailstorm. One great big church that stands up above everything else was shelled so badly, I don't see how they can repair it. In fact, I don't see how they can rebuild any of the city unless they tear all the buildings down and build up again on the ruins. They have an underground city, which was built when they fortified the place. It is the only thing that saved them. We didn't get to go through it. They wouldn't let us go through unless we had an officer for a guide.

After looking around a while we left and went out to the trenches where the last fighting took place. It sure was a sight—shell holes, dugouts, wire and everything else. It had at one time been a heavy timber, but there are very few of the trees left standing, those that are left have scars on them and limbs shot off. The ground is covered with shells that didn't go off and pieces of shells. Around every shell hole you can find several pieces of shrapnel. This land had been gone over before and everything taken that was of any value. There were all kinds of bombs and hand grenades lying around, but we didn't care about picking any of them up. There were dugouts, trenches and wire entanglements as far as we could see in every direction. They sure did a pile of work building all these. I don't see how human life could exist in such a place as this. The ground looked like it had been plowed. It sure is a wonderful sight. I never realized the damage the Germans had done to that city. It is a total loss and they should have to pay for every bit of it.

I suppose you people are getting along alright these days. I am still plugging away here in the office. We are not overworked, but manage to keep busy most of the time.

Well, I have been over a year now and am ready to start back. I would like to get back and get started for myself again, but don't see how I can for some time yet.

Well, I will close this time, hoping you are all well and happy.

Your brother.

CHAS. WILES.

MRS. JOHN F. WHIPP DEAD

Former Resident of Maryville Passed Away at Pomona, Cal.—Mother's Death Follows That of Son.

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. John Whipp, a former resident of this city who died Friday, Feb. 7, at a hospital in Los Angeles, Cal. The Whipp family left here several years ago for Pomona Cal., to make their home. This is the second time within a few months that death has visited their home, a son, Homer Whipp, with the American Army in France dying in that country several months ago.

A memorial service in honor of the boys from Pomona including Homer Whipp, who gave their lives for their country was to have been held Sunday, Feb. 9, and was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Whipp. The following regarding Mrs. Whipp's death is taken from the Pomona Bulletin.

Death has again saddened the home of John F. Whipp, of North Garey avenue, Mrs. Whipp having died yesterday at a hospital in Los Angeles, passing away two days after an operation had been performed. Although Mrs. Whipp had been in poor health for some time, her friends did not realize that she was in such a critical condition.

Mrs. Whipp was born in Missouri, but moved to Pomona a number of years ago. She was a woman of prominence in the Christian church of this city and was much loved by her associates. She leaves besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Mildred Whipp. There are several brothers and sisters in the East.

The death of Mrs. Whipp is a double blow to Mr. Whipp and his daughter, word having been received of the death of Homer Whipp, a son, in France, some weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 2 o'clock at the Todd & Patterson chapel, with interment in Pomona cemetery.

Owing to the death of Mrs. John F. Whipp, the memorial service which was to have been held at the First Christian church on Sunday morning, will be postponed, as one of the number for whom the service was to honor was Homer D. Whipp, son of the deceased.

The memorial service will be held at a later date, and the pastor, Dr. C. R. Hudson, will preach on a different topic than had been planned.

PRINCESS "PAT" WED TODAY

For First Time in 600 Years Westminster Abbey Is Scene of Royal Wedding—Brilliant Event.

London, Feb. 27.—In the sanctuary of England's honored dead, Westminister Abbey, where kings, statesmen and poets lie in their eternal sleep, there assembled today the most notable personages in the British empire to witness the marriage of Princess Patricia of Connaught to Commander Alexander Ramsey of the Royal navy. It was the most brilliant social event of the reign of King George and the first royal wedding, for Princess Patricia is related to the Royal family, in the Abbey in six hundred years. A precedent was brok en in this ceremony. It is a case of royalty marrying a commoner. Great crowds turned out to the nuptial party. The ceremony was conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the highest ecclesiastic in Great Britain. The wedding took place at noon.

THE NORMALS BEAT MIDLAND

Bearcats Add Another to Their String Returning From Atchison with Long End of 38-21 Score.

Coach Merl Sims' fast traveling aggregation of basket ball tossers added another game to their string of victories when the Normal troup trounced the Midland College five on its own court at Atchison, Kans., by a score of 38-21. Coach Sims was unable to make the trip and the team was accompanied by W. A. Rickenbrode.

Members of the team report that it required no undue exertion for them to defeat the Kansas five, even though playing on a small court with a very slick floor. The Bearcats established a safe lead of 25-11 in the first half, and then took it easy during the remainder of the game, merely keeping the ball away from their opponents.

A new line-up was used with good effect, it being necessary to shift Richards to forward to make a place at guard for Puckett, who has been playing a star game, although it is his first year with the team.

Captain Miller led in scoring, with six field goals and as many free throws. Johnny Ham, lanky center, played rings around his opponent and scored seven goals from the field. Scarlett made three beautiful shots from long range. Egley played part of the last half. Summers made the trip but did not get into the game.

The victory over Midland gives the Bearcats a standing of seven games won and three lost. The standing in the conference is four games won and two lost, a percentage of .667, which assures them a high place in the final reckoning. The conference season has been completed and only one other game remains, the return contest with Kansas Polytechnic Institute, which will be played here March 6.

In view of the fact that the Midland five defeated Poly by a large score in a game played recently at Kansas City, Bearcat fans have high hopes of evening up scores with the Kansas City school next Thursday.

SENATORS AT WILSON DINNER BELIEVE IN LEAGUE PLAN

LODGE AND KNOX ATTEND

Neither Reveal Their Hand, However, in the Discussion—President Throws New Light on Situation.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Both sides of the League of Nations controversy still have their biggest cards to play. This was the conviction at the capitol today when details of discussion at the President's dinner to foreign relations committee of both houses became known. The President's avowal of any intention to keep any of the information given senators and representatives last night secret led to fresh discussion of the entire League of Nations project. In the light of the new facts given by the executive in the lobbies and cloak rooms today the fact became known that the President made no startling statements as a basis for demands for the ratification of the League of Nations constitution led to the belief that his gravest fears were not given expression at the dinner. Neither Senators Lodge nor Knox revealed their hands in the discussion. The only opponent of the League who played a prominent part was Senator Brandegree. Supporters of the League came away from the White House with a conviction that the project cannot be defeated. The President showed no hesitation, admitting there was a general disposition at the peace conference to give the United States tasks of more or less of a philantrophic nature that other nations would not care to undertake. The President said, however, he believed the American people would approve taking Armenia under American guardianship.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Wilson will make one more public speech before he goes abroad and that it will be in New York the night of March 4, the White House announced. It is said W. H. Taft will be a speaker at the same affair.

SAVE MONEY ON SHOES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From Foochow, China, comes this letter from R. E. Gardner, Foochow College: "Neolin Soles have solved the shoe problem for me. Other soles wore out quickly on the rocky roads here, and I had no end of trouble with them," he writes.

Where other soles fail, Neolin Soles always stand the test of hard wear and rough usage. This fact points the way to economy. Buy Neolin-soled shoes for the whole family, and so save shoe money. And have Neolin Soles put on your old shoes, too.

These durable, flexible, and waterproof soles are scientifically made by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

A Milk Famine!

What would you do without milk? Dairymen are throwing up their business. A milk war—perhaps a milk famine—stares us in the face. City folks howl at the high price they pay and farmers kick at the low price they get.

knows both sides, and tells the WHOLE TRUTH in a mighty helpful article called "A Truce in the Milk War," by John E. Pickett, appearing in the issue of March 8.

"In the interest of truth," says Mr. Pickett, "it should be generally understood that dairymen are quitting not because they have made all the money they care for, but because they have not made any." And then he goes on to tell what's what in milk production and why farmers strike. This article—and every other feature in a year's subscription to THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN—is worth money to YOU. For only $1 you can get Mr. Pickett's valuable discussion, and 52 big, helpful numbers besides—one every week, with more than 500 articles on every phase of farming and farm living. It's the biggest dollar's worth on the market today. Every issue will give you a good idea. You can't afford to miss it.

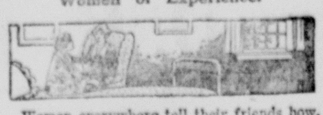
A Woman's Story With Great Meaning

Subject of Childbirth Discussed by Women of Experience.



Women everywhere tell their friends how, through the use of Mother's Friend, the wonderful penetrating external application, they avoided suffering and distress before the advent of nature's most wonderful evolution.

Mother's Friend is a remedy which spreads its influence upon the cords, nerves and ligaments involved, rendering them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion. The nerves, cords, tendons and ligaments expand without that peculiar wrenching strain, and nervousness, nausea and unrestful sensations are naturally avoided when the nerves and muscles are relieved and thus are not tort and drawn.

By regular use, the lower abdominal region expands with ease when baby is born, the hours are less at the crisis, and pain and danger is naturally less.

You can obtain Mother's Friend from any drug store. It has been used by women for over half a century, and is just as standard as anything you can think of.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. H, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and get a bottle of Mother's Friend today, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

"THE MATTER WITH MISSOURI."

It Is Not Many Things, But Much, the Joplin Herald Points Out.

"What's the matter with Missouri?" asks the Joplin News-Herald. Not many things, but much. For instance:

Missouri is the sixth state in the Union in population and ranks thirty-second in schools.

Missouri is proud of the fact that its taxes are low—and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has a large percentage of people who vote their party tickets straight, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has too many citizens who judge their politicians on their oratory rather than their official records, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has a more perfectly coordinating combination of agricultural, mineral and commercial wealth than any other state, yet ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri is the only state in the Union which has two regional banks, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri is great because the Lord made it so, giving it all the essentials of greatness to start with, and yet ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has no excuse for not ranking as high educationally as it does in population, but it ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has too many citizens who are fond of calling it "imperial Missouri" and trying to hold taxes down, so that it may continue to rank thirty-second as a school state.

That's all that's fundamentally wrong with Missouri.

RENEWED TESTIMONY.

No one in Maryville who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Maryville woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Maryville resident can doubt.

Mrs. A. Weidman, 409 E. Thompson St., says: "I had pains through my kidneys and my kidneys acted irregularly. These symptoms were always worse when there was a change in the weather or when I took cold. I used different medicines, but without benefit and I despaired of ever getting better. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I got some at Love & Gaugh's Drug store. In less than a month I was entirely free from the trouble." (Statement given September 19, 1908).

On June 12, 1916, Mrs. Weidman said: "It hasn't been necessary for me to use anything for my kidneys for some time. I think Doan's are the best kidney medicine made and words can't express my high regard for them."

MUST BACK LEAGUE

TAFT SAYS IT IS THAT, OR PREPARE FOR ANOTHER WAR

HIS ARGUMENTS FOR IT

With William Howard Taft, the only living ex-president of the United States, predicting a greater war if President Wilson's plan for a League of Nations to Enforce Peace is not carried out, and prominent statesmen, educators and jurists, declaring in favor of the League, the Mid-Continent Section of the National Congress for a League of Nations held in St. Louis Tuesday and Wednesday was unanimously in favor of the plan. The meeting was attended by many delegates from Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa and Kansas. J. L. Funk, formerly prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county, now living in El Reno, Okla., was a delegate from Oklahome to the meeting.

Mr. Taft in his speech said in part:

"The question now before the American people is not whether a formal treaty shall be ratified by the Senate. The question is whether the draft report of a proposed covenant and league of the 14 nations represented at Paris shall meet their approval. They should give the President to know that he will have their backing in consenting to the incorporation of such a covenant in the treaty. It is quite possible that in the present draft, there are ambiguous words that should be rendered clearer in their support. It is quite possible that reservation in respect to things we deem important, like the Monroe Doctrine, should be made more specific. Such changes in language to take away the finely drawn arguments of objectors who resort to strained construction in attacking the covenant can be easily made by the conference.

"There are certain vital points in the covenant, however, that must be retained if it is to have effectiveness and reality. One is the settlement of our differences with other nations, as other nations consent to the settlement of their differences with us and with others by arbitration, or by mediation and conciliation, and a report before we begin war. Another is that if the nation against whom we have a grievance and against whom an award or a report is made, complies with that award or report, we must be satisfied, and not begin war against the complying nation to achieve by force more than has been adjudged to us. Finally, when any nation has covenanted not to begin war pending a peaceable settlement, or the compli- ance with an award, breaks that covenant and begins the fight, we must unite with other nations to boycott that nation. We must isolate it from world relations, commercial, financial, personal and diplomatic, so as to compel it to stop war and comply with its covenant. We must do this, and can do it, in no other way than by act of Congress imposing an embargo.

"The result of this voluntary feature in the forming of an army of the league is likely to be that the nations members of the league in the neighborhood of the outlaw nation will raise the needed forces, while those most remote will confine their efforts to the boycott only. In other words, European countries would be likely to furnish on such recommendation the forces to be used in Europe, and the American countries those to be used in this country, those to be used in this hemisphere to suppress lawless war.

"The Executive Council of the league is to recommend a fair and general reduction of armament, and a specific limit for each nation, leaving only enough to defend itself and comply with the obligations of the league. These limits are to be fixed in view of and in consideration of the reduction in armament of other countries. It then becomes a matter of negotiation and agreement between us and the Executive Council, what retion of armament we will make. This can be agreed upon eigther by the treaty making branch or by Congress. When made, we must be willing to comply with the agreement until conditions change.

"If the United States does not do so the league and covenant will lose much of its power, prestige and general effectiveness. The refusal of the United States [illegible] e a mere offensive and defensi [illegible] e of the countries of Great B [illegible] rance, Italy and Japan, and we [illegible] all soon return to the old system of hostile alliance and competitive armaments, followed inevitably in a decade or two decades by another war. We shall go through the same sad course of events which the history of this war records, in which we shall attempt to be a neutral and then be inevitably drawn in by our close relations to European countries. Then the energy and enterprise and heroism of our people will again be stirred, the best of our youth will be sent abroad to fight the battles not only of the world but of ourselves.

Speaking of the Monroe Doctrine and the effect a League of Nations would have on it, Judge Ames said:

"The Monroe Doctrine itself was the immediate outgrowth of European politics.

"It was made possible by a definite understanding with Great Britain.

"It did not represent a policy of isolation, but a policy of co-operation.

"Its fundamental purpose was to make the United States and those countries adjacent to it 'safe for democracy.'

"Every one of these principles is directly in the path President Wilson is now pursuing, and it cannot be an abandonment of our time-honored policy to accept for its support the great democracies of the world with whom we are now associated. We believe that the historic policy of the United States has always been to make safe the pathway of democracy and we now have a rare opportunity of securing the support of the civilized world in adopting this, not merely an American policy but as the policy of all civilized nations.

"We ought to become a party to a League of Nations as a pure matter of selfishness. Every portion of the globe today is adjacent to the United States. Constantinople and Tokio are closer to us today than Rio de Janeiro in Monroe's day."

WM. JOB GOOD ROAD WORKER

Representative From Nodaway Devotes Large Part of His Time to Legislation Along This Line.

Wm. Job of Maryville, representative in the state legislature, is one of the foremost workers for good roads and is devoting a large part of his time while at Jefferson City in preparing and directing legislation along this line. Representative Job asked the Speaker of the House to be relieved of work on the Ways and Means committee to which he was named in order that he might devote more time to road legislation.

The amendments to the proposed 60 million state road bond issue presented by Pruitt of Jackson county were prepared by Mr. Job. The amendments provided that all counties in the state share equally in the division of the moneys. he original bill was also prepared with the assistance of Mr. Job, who has pointed out that the income from registration of automobile licensees will pay the interest and start a sinking fund, thus relieving the tax payers of being burdened.

Much other important road legislation for consideration has also been due to his iniative, two of the measures being order to the printer with privilege to have more than twice the number for distribution. All of the road measures in which he has been interested have been given favorable consideration and some of them will doubtless be enacted into laws.

TO PAY LEGISLATORS MORE

Wm. Job Introduces Bill Asking For Raise to $1,000 Per Annum.

The bill also provides for two sessions of the legislature an "initial" session beginning in January every two years, and a "final" session thirty days after the first. Bills are to be introduced and engrossed at the first session and passed at the second. Thirty dollars for postage and mileage are provided for as at present.

VERDUN IS IN RUINS

Says That Place Is a Total Loss and That Germans Should Be Made to Pay For It.

The following interesting letter has just been received by Carl Wiles from his brother, Chas. Wiles, with the advanced section of the American Army of Occupation in Germany:

Dear Brother and All:

I will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and getting along alright. There isn't very much going on here but will try and tell you about the trip I took last Sunday.

Most of us fellows here in the office have been trying for some time to get up to the front. Last Sunday we got a truck and went up to Verdun. It is one hundred kilometers from here, or about sixty-five miles. We went by the way of Domremy, the birthplace of Joan of Arc, Vaucouleurs, Void, Commerecy, Sampigny, St. Mihiel, to Verdun. Commercy is a pretty fair sized town and was about the first place we saw that was shot up any. Most of it was done by bombs. Lerouville was shelled some, but it is quite a distance from the St. Mihiel sector, therefore isn't shot up as bad as some of the other towns. When we reached Sampigny we ran into the trenches and they sure showed that some hot fighting had been going on there. The ground was heavily intrenched and covered all over with wire entanglements. The hills were pretty badly torn up by the shells. St. Mihiel has received a pretty heavy bombardment. The buildings are pretty well badly battered up. There were only a few stores open for business. There was one big church that I noticed, that had the spire shot off, part of the roof gone and several holes through the sides. We saw one little town between St. Mihiel and Verdun that had been shot to the ground. The roofs were off of about all the houses, just a few parts of the walls were left standing.

There were trenches and entanglements almost all the way from St. Mihiel to Verdun. They were built along the road and looked as if they were built during an advance. They were not very deep and looked as if some outfit had dug themselves in in a hurry.

Verdun is located on some very high hills. It is an old fortress and is a very strong point. There were thirty forts in and around the city. As we came into the city we passed through two sets of gates and two sets of great stone walls. In spite of these strong fortifications, it was shelled to the ground. I don't believe there is a building left that wasn't hit at least once. The place looks like a corn field after a heavy hailstorm. One great big church that stands up above everything else was shelled so badly, I don't see how they can repair it. In fact, I don't see how they can rebuild any of the city unless they tear all the buildings down and build up again on the ruins. They have an underground city, which was built when they fortified the place. It is the only thing that saved them. We didn't get to go through it. They wouldn't let us go through unless we had an officer for a guide.

After looking around a while we left and went out to the trenches where the last fighting took place. It sure was a sight—shell holes, dugouts, wire and everything else. It had at one time been a heavy timber, but there are very few of the trees left standing, those that are left have scars on them and limbs shot off. The ground is covered with shells that didn't go off and pieces of shells. Around every shell hole you can find several pieces of shrapnel. This land had been gone over before and everything taken that was of any value. There were all kinds of bombs and hand grenades lying around, but we didn't care about picking any of them up. There were dugouts, trenches and wire entanglements as far as we could see in every direction. They sure did a pile of work building all these. I don't see how human life could exist in such a place as this. The ground looked like it had been plowed. It sure is a wonderful sight. I never realized the damage the Germans had done to that city. It is a total loss and they should have to pay for every bit of it.

I suppose you people are getting along alright these days. I am still plugging away here in the office. We are not overworked, but manage to keep busy most of the time.

Well, I have been over a year now and am ready to start back. I would like to get back and get started for myself again, but don't see how I can for some time yet.

Well, I will close this time, hoping you are all well and happy.

Your brother,
CHAS. WILES.

MRS. JOHN F. WHIPP DEAD

Former Resident of Maryville Passed Away at Pomona, Cal.—Mother's Death Follows That of Son.

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. John Whipp, a former resident of this city who died Friday, Feb. 7, at a hospital in Los Angeles, Cal. The Whipp family left here several years ago for Pomona Cal., to make their home. This is the second time within a few months that death has visited their home, a son, Homer Whipp, with the American Army in France dying in that country several months ago.

A memorial service in honor of the boys from Pomona including Homer Whipp, who gave their lives for their country was to have been held Sunday, Feb. 9, and was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Whipp. The following regarding Mrs. Whipp's death is taken from the Pomona Bulletin.

Death has again saddened the home of John F. Whipp, of North Garey avenue, Mrs. Whipp having died yesterday at a hospital in Los Angeles, passing away two days after an operation had been performed. Although Mrs. Whipp had been in poor health for some time, her friends did not realize that she was in such a critical condition.

Mrs. Whipp was born in Missouri, but moved to Pomona a number of years ago. She was a woman of prominence in the Christian church of this city and was much loved by her associates. She leaves besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Mildred Whipp. There are several brothers and sisters in the East.

The death of Mrs. Whipp is a double blow to Mr. Whipp and his daughter, word having been received of the death of Homer Whipp, a son, in France, some weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 2 o'clock at the Todd & Patterson chapel, with interment in Pomona cemetery.

Owing to the death of Mrs. John F. Whipp, the memorial service which was to have been held at the First Christian church on Sunday morning, will be postponed, as one of the number for whom the service was to honor was Homer D. Whipp, son of the deceased.

The memorial service will be held at a later date, and the pastor, Dr. C. R. Hudson, will preach on a different topic than had been planned.

PRINCESS "PAT" WED TODAY

For First Time in 600 Years Westminster Abbey Is Scene of Royal Wedding—Brilliant Event.

London, Feb. 27.—In the sanctuary of England's honored dead, Westminister Abbey, where kings, statesmen and poets lie in their eternal sleep, there assembled today the most notable personages in the British empire to witness the marriage of Princess Patricia of Connaught to Commander Alexander Ramsey of the Royal navy. It was the most brilliant social event of the reign of King George and the first royal wedding, for Princess Patricia is related to the Royal family, in the Abbey in six hundred years. A precedent was brok en in this ceremony. It is a case of royalty marrying a commoner. Great crowds turned out to the nuptial party. The ceremony was conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the highest ecclesiastic in Great Britain. The wedding took place at noon.

A modern fireproof six-story building is to be constructed. THE NORMALS BEAT MIDLAND

Bearcats Add Another to Their String Returning From Atchison with Long End of 38-21 Score.

Coach Merl Sims' fast traveling aggregation of basket ball tossers added another game to their string of victories when the Normal troup trounced the Midland College five on its own court at Atchison, Kans., by a score of 38-21. Coach Sims was unable to make the trip and the team was accompanied by W. A. Rickenbrode.

Members of the team report that it required no undue exertion for them to defeat the Kansas five, even though playing on a small court with a very slick floor. The Bearcats established a safe lead of 25-11 in the first half, and then took it easy during the remainder of the game, merely keeping the ball away from their opponents.

A new line-up was used with good effect, it being necessary to shift Richards to forward to make a place at guard for Puckett, who has been playing a star game, although it is his first year with the team.

Captain Miller led in scoring, with six field goals and as many free throws. Johnny Ham, lanky center, played rings around his opponent and scored seven goals from the field. Scarlett made three beautiful shots from long range. Egley played part of the last half. Summers made the trip but did not get into the game.

The victory over Midland gives the Bearcats a standing of seven games won and three lost. The standing in the conference is four games won and two lost, a percentage of .667, which assures them a high place in the final reckoning. The conference season has been completed and only one other game remains, the return contest with Kansas Polytechnic Institute, which will be played here March 6.

In view of the fact that the Midland five defeated Poly by a large score in a game played recently at Kansas City, Bearcat fans have high hopes of evening up scores with the Kansas City school next Thursday.

The Aaron Linville home, one-half mile north of Skidmore was badly dam aged by fire early this morning.

Help was summoned and the blaze was put out but not until considerable damage had been done to the lower floors of the house and the basement.

SENATORS AT WILSON DINNER BELIEVE IN LEAGUE PLAN

LODGE AND KNOX ATTEND

Neither Reveal Their Hand, However, in the Discussion—President Throws New Light on Situation.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Both sides of the League of Nations controversy still have their biggest cards to play. This was the conviction at the capitol today when details of discussion at the President's dinner to foreign relations committee of both houses became known. The President's avowal of any intention to keep any of the information given senators and representatives last night secret led to fresh discussion of the entire League of Nations project. In the light of the new facts given by the executive in the lobbies and cloak rooms today the fact became known that the President made no startling statements as a basis for demands for the ratification of the League of Nations constitution led to the belief that his gravest fears were not given expression at the dinner. Neither Senators Lodge nor Knox revealed their hands in the discussion. The only opponent of the League who played a prominent part was Senator Brandegree. Supporters of the League came away from the White House with a conviction that the project cannot be defeated. The President showed no hesitation, admitting there was a general disposition at the peace conference to give the United States tasks of more or less of a philantrophic nature that other nations would not care to undertake. The President said, however, he believed the American people would approve taking Armenia under American guardianship.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Wilson will make one more public speech before he goes abroad and that it will be in New York the night of March 4, the White House announced. It is said W. H. Taft will be a speaker at the same affair.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Wilson marched proudly today at the head of a great victory parade at Washington of soldiers, sailors and marines along Pennsylvania avenue. The parade was in honor of the President and the service men of Washington.

Among the many memorial sermons preached in honor of the late Theodore Roosevelt, one delivered by the Dr. Henry Hepburn at the Buena Memorial church in Chicago, has been widely and favorably commented on. Dr. Hepburn is a son of James L. Hepburn of near Hopkins and has been pastor of the Chicago church for several years, being considered among the most gifted pulpit orators of that great metropolis.—Hopkins Journal.

SAVE MONEY ON SHOES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From Foochow, China, comes this letter from R. E. Gardner, Foochow College: "Neolin Soles have solved the shoe problem for me. Other soles wore out quickly on the rocky roads here, and I had no end of trouble with them," he writes.

Where other soles fail, Neolin Soles always stand the test of hard wear and rough usage. This fact points the way to economy. Buy Neolin-soled shoes for the whole family, and so save shoe money. And have Neolin Soles put on your old shoes, too.

These durable, flexible, and waterproof soles are scientifically made by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

A Milk Famine!

What would you do without milk? Dairymen are throwing up their business. A milk war—perhaps a milk famine—stares us in the face. City folks howl at the high price they pay and farmers kick at the low price they get.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

knows both sides, and tells the WHOLE TRUTH in a mighty helpful article called "A Truce in the Milk War," by John E. Pickett, appearing in the issue of March 8.

"In the interest of truth," says Mr. Pickett, "it should be generally understood that dairymen are quitting not because they have made all the money they care for, but because they have not made any." And then he goes on to tell what's what in milk production and why farmers strike. This article—and every other feature in a year's subscription to THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN—is worth money to YOU. For only $1 you can get Mr. Pickett's valuable discussion, and 52 big, helpful numbers besides—one every week, with more than 500 articles on every phase of farming and farm living. It's the biggest dollar's worth on the market today. Every issue will give you a good idea. You can't afford to miss it.

A Woman's Story With Great Meaning

Subject of Childbirth Discussed by Women of Experience.

Women everywhere tell their friends how, through the use of Mother's Friend, the wonderful penetrating external application, they avoided suffering and distress before the advent of nature's most wonderful evolution.

Mother's Friend is a remedy which spreads its influence upon the cords, nerves and ligaments involved, rendering them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion. The nerves, cords, tendons and ligaments expand without that peculiar wrenching strain, and nervousness, nausea and unrestful sensations are naturally avoided when the nerves and muscles are relieved and thus are not tort and drawn.

By regular use, the lower abdominal region expands with ease when baby is born, the hours are less at the crisis, and pain and danger is naturally less.

You can obtain Mother's Friend from any drug store. It has been used by women for over half a century, and is just as standard as anything you can think of.

"THE MATTER WITH MISSOURI."

It Is Not Many Things, But Much, the Joplin Herald Points Out.

"What's the matter with Missouri?" asks the Joplin News-Herald. Not many things, but much. For instance:

Missouri is the sixth state in the Union in population and ranks thirty-second in schools.

Missouri is proud of the fact that its taxes are low—and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has a large percentage of people who vote their party tickets straight, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has too many citizens who judge their politicians on their oratory rather than their official records, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has a more perfectly co-ordinating combination of agricultural, mineral and commercial wealth than any other state, yet ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri is the only state in the Union which has two regional banks, and ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri is great because the Lord made it so, giving it all the essentials of greatness to start with, and yet ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has no excuse for not ranking as high educationally as it does in population, but it ranks thirty-second as a school state.

Missouri has too many citizens who are fond of calling it "imperial Missouri" and trying to hold taxes down, so that it may continue to rank thirty-second as a school state.

That's all that's fundamentally wrong with Missouri.

RENEWED TESTIMONY.

No one in Maryville who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Maryville woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Maryville resident can doubt.

Mrs. A. Weidman, 409 E. Thompson St., says: "I had pains through my kidneys and my kidneys acted irregularly. These symptoms were always worse when there was a change in the weather or when I took cold. I used different medicines, but without benefit and I despaired of ever getting better. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I got some at Love & Gaugh's Drug store. In less than a month I was entirely free from the trouble." (Statement given September 19, 1908).

On June 12, 1916, Mrs. Weidman said: "It hasn't been necessary for me to use anything for my kidneys for some time. I think Doan's are the best kidney medicine made and words can't express my high regard for them."
